OREGON.

Revival at the M. E. Church at Salem grows in interest.

The Albany Register is to have lots of new material.

Sam Colver, the Modoc War Lecturer, has arrived at Salem.

Wheat says the Courier is selling at 90 cents a bushel at Lafayette.

A man in Linn county killed fourteen ducks at one shot the other day.

Dr. Golden of Albany had a raft of cedar logs washed away last Monday. Value, $400.

Anthony Selders was robbed at Lafayette of a small sum of money on last Thursday night. So says the Courier.

A window curtain was set on fire in the house of N. Gilbert at Salem, on Thursday, and came near producing a conflagration.

The officers of Rebekah Degree Lodge No. 2, will be installed at Oregon City on Tuesday evening by Grand Master Apperson.

R. R. Thompson has ordered a steam plow from England to be used on his farm in Yamhill county. It will cost the round sum of $12,000.

The Board of Equalization has completed its labors, just how or what labors we can't tell, but they have gone home. We will hear more anon, perhaps.

Some thieves tried to get into the store of Messrs. Fields & Strickler at Oregon City on Tuesday night, but after breaking out two panes of glass were frightened away.

The Linn county Farmer's club is fully organized and meets twice a month at Cowan's school house, six miles southeast of Albany. The Club begins with favorable prospects.

The I. O. O. F., of Buena Vista, Polk county, elected the following officers for 1873 at their last meeting: W. B. Ramsey, N. G.; L. M. Hall, V. G.; E. C. Hall, R. S., H. Loop P. S.; H. M. Holder, Treasurer.

A Yamhillian was chopping wood the other day and as he raised his ax to strike a heavy blow it caught on a clothes line stretched in the yard, and it came down on the back of the chopper's neck, and they had to put him in his little bed.

At the Oregon City postoffice, the total number of money orders issued from January 1st, 1872, to January 1st, 1873, 832; amount on the same, $15,130 31; fees on the same, $105. Number of orders paid, 260; amount paid on the same, $9,076 51.

The report of the Recorder of Albany shows that the city received from all sources, for the fiscal year ending January 14th, 1873, $7,733 46. The disbursements for the same time were $7,040 39, leaving a balance in the treasury, in cash, of $693 07.

Occidental Lodge No. 30, I. O. O. F., at McMinnville installed the following officers on the 6th inst., M. F. Roberts, N. G.; H. V. V. Johnson, Treas: H. A. Brown, R. S.; S. Shafer, Warden; D. H. Jones, Conductor; John Heston, I. G.; C. G. Rowell R. S. to N. G.; H. C. Dale, L. S. to N. G.

The officers of Rebekah Degree Lodge at Salem, were installed Tuesday evening, as follows: G. W. Jordan, N. G.; Mrs. Geo. Cook, V. G.; Mrs. E. E. Wheeler, Treas.; C. A. Reed, Con.; Mrs. S. C. Adams, R. S. of N. G.; Mrs. J. D. Jordan, L. S. of N. G.; Mrs. J. H. Howell, L. S. of V. G.

From Harrisburg we learn that Covenant Lodge No. 23, has elected officers for 1873, as follows: J. M. Shelly, N. G.; J. F. McCartney, V. G.; W. C. Davis, R. S.; Henry Reams, Treas.; Messrs. T. J. Stites, Levi Douglas and W. C. Davis, Trustees. Covenant Lodge has done exceedingly well in this selection.

Already, says the Plaindealer, a new line of steam colliers is to be put on for shipping the coal of Coos Bay to market. The impetus which will be given to trade by the new movement will be of great advantage not only to Coos county, but to the whole of Southern Oregon. We are further informed that the present companies, the Newport, Eastport and North Bend intend to increase their shipping facilities also.

The Statesman of Friday, says: "Gen. Palmer, agent at Siletz, arrived yesterday from the Reservation. He informs us that the Indians are getting more quiet on the question of dancing their ancestors back to life. Only the old Indians seem now to place any serious confidence in the prophesies about the expulsion of the whites and the restoration of the domain to the Indians. The greater number of the young people who engage in the superstitious dance, do so for mere fun and excitement. Gen. Palmer does not apprehend any trouble, and is confident that he can shortly put an entire stop to the dancing mummeries."

A correspondent of the Albany Register, writing from Harrisburg, says: "This has certainly been a 'Happy New Year' to the farmer, as almost simultaneous with it, the price of wheat advanced from 65 to 75 cents per bushel. The change was too great and sudden, though, for many of them, and we now hear some of those who had 'waited for six bits,' say they believe it will soon go up to one dollar, so they will wait awhile longer. What the future may bring, of course we cannot tell, but any one who will take pains to figure, can readily see that our grain dealers are paying all the market will warrant—and, in fact, a little more. Quite an amount, however, has already changed hands, and we hope the financial crisis will soon have passed."

The Mercury says: "The coal fields of Coos county may be said to be almost inexhaustible, and in years to come cannot fail to be a source of wealth to that country. A railroad once constructed to the mines, it will in all probability extend up the Coquille river, opening up the vast forest of cedar, fir, pine, hemlock, maple and myrtle, and on out to the Umpqua valley tap the O. and C. railroad at Roseburg. It has been said the road would never pay, but competent judges now assert to the contrary. The great coal mining and lumbering interests of Coos county must of necessity employ a great army of men to work them, who, of course, cannot engage in agriculture, and must necessarily draw their supplies from abroad. It is idle to assume that the present source of supplies will continue, when an adjoining county offers for sale everything they require at one-third less cost.

SUPREME COURT PROCEEDINGS.

THURSDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

Court met pursuant to adjournment. All the Judges and officers of the court present.

Carter & Mason res. vs the City of Portland appl.; trial on merits resumed concluded and cause submitted. Page, Thayer and Mason for res.; R. Williams for appl.

Jehial Kendall res. vs W. H. H. McFarland, appl.; decree of last term in this case ordered corrected, from the judgment entry submitted and ordered entered. Strahan and Burnett for res.; Chenowith for appl.

Jane Roberts res. vs Fendall Sutherlin appl.; argument on merits opened. Watson & Willis for res.; Gibbs and Burnett for appl.

The Court adjourned until 9 A. M. to-day.

As Advertising Agents, Messrs. Rowell & Co., New York, stand in the front rank. They are prompt, honorable and straightforward, and well deserve the success they have met with. They can always be found at 41 Park Row, and are pleased to have business men drop in upon them. In their rooms can be found files of every newspaper published in the United States.—Republican, Tunkhannock, Pa.

THE TERRITORIES.

Arizona is out of debt and has $20,000 cash, in her Territorial Treasury.

John Bert killed J. Marianda in Tucson, Arizona, on the 25th ultimo.

Several men are now confined in the Tucson, Arizona, jail on the charge of murder.

In Seattle during the year 1872 the number of births was 18; marriages, 25; deaths, 21.

The whole number of deeds for real estate in the city of Seattle, W. T., and the county of which it is the county seat, for the year 1872, was 431, while the mortgages were 145.

There was an installation of officers elected of Olive Branch Lodge No. 4, of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, in Seattle, on Wednesday evening last, as follows: G. N. McConaha, N. G.; C. C. Perkins, V. G.; B. Calvert, R. S., and I. Waddell, Treasurer.

Nooksachk Valley, W. T., is 17 miles northeast from Whatcom and now has only about twenty settlers. It produces wheat, barley, corn, oats, peas and potatoes. A large share of the timber has been burned. On the bottom lands are alder, vine maple, some small brush, and a few cottonwoods. On the uplands are some very fine firs.

A man named Ennis, a resident of Georgetown, Colorado, whose wife is visiting in England, last week eloped with the wife of his absent wife's brother. The brother-in-law followed the couple with a bowie knife, but no one was killed, and the deserted man finally concluded to go home and wait to see if Ennis would not return for some other female member of the family.

The Skagit River Valley, in Washington Territory, contains 200,000 acres of agricultural and grazing lands. Its settlement has hitherto been prevented by a jam located about ten and one-half miles from tide-water. As soon as an appropriation can be received to clear away the jam the timber will become available and the land valuable. Then the river can be navigated for sixty miles from the mouth and many of its tributaries will become navigable.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The two Registrars of the Supreme Court at Victoria will be deprived of salaries and will henceforth be expected to subsist upon the fees.

The Chinese employed in a large manufacturing establishment not far from Victoria, struck yesterday, assigning as a reason that they had been "docked" for the Christmas holiday.

The New Westminster Herald regards the proposition to create seven Ministers with disfavor; but it favors the reduction of the total number to four, all of whom should have portfolios.

The Colonist says that Lieut. Governor Trutch, of British Columbia, will resign at the close of the present session of the Legislature. It is added that he is an applicant for a position on the Canadian Pacific Railroad as Engineer or Director.

There was a total of 46,148 tons of coal shipped from Nanaimo in 1872, of which 24,309 tons went to San Francisco, 1,778 to Portland, 1,800 to Honolulu, 1,000 to San Diego, and the balance to points in British Columbia and elsewhere, and to vessels calling. The total was 11,000 tons more than for 1871.

Referring to the Canada Pacific Railway, the Ottawa Herald says: "A new company is to be chartered, composed of the leading men of both companies chartered last session, with probably Sir Hugh Allan at its head. Directors are restricted as to the number of their shares, and Government directors are to be appointed for each Province.

The British Colonist says: Late surveys have developed the fact that the summit of the Rocky Mountains, at Yellow Head Pass—where the Canadian Pacific Railway will come through—is only 3,802 feet above the level of the sea, or some 2,500 feet lower than the summit of the Rocky Mountains at the point where the Central Pacific road crosses.

State Temperance Convention.

The State Temperance Alliance having adjourned to meet at Salem, on Thursday at 10 A. M. February 20th, 1873, it is hereby earnestly desired that zealous and co-operative action be immediately taken by the Executive Committee of each county, and the friends of temperance throughout the State, that a full representation of the temperance element may be had at the ensuing convention.

It is recommended that communities hold mass meetings and elect representatives, and and that all temperance and literary societies, all churches and Sunday schools, and all schools of learning, elect and send at least one delegate for every twenty members.

The officers elected at the last Convention are as follows: President, Elder S. C. Adams; Vice Presidents, Jacob Stitzel, Rev. J. H. D. Henderson and C. H. Walker; Recording Secretary, Jas. A. Smith; Corresponding Secretary, Syl. C. Simpson; J. B. McClane, Treasurer; Chaplain, I. D. Driver; Sergeant-at-arms, W. H. Lewis; Executive Committee, Mr. Worden, of Yamhill county, Prof. L. L. Rogers, of Marion, Thos. Pearce, of Polk, J. H. Lambert, of Clackamas, A. G. Walling, of Multnomah, David Porter, of Linn, Jas. Chambers, of Benton, Wm. T. Baxter, of Tillamook, Steward Aiken, of Lane, Judge Jackson, of Washington, A. B. Meacham, of Umatilla, Wm. Bonham, of Grant, Wm. Mitchell, of Wasco, D. W. Litchtenthaler, of Union, F. H. Grabbis, of Baker, B. F. Giltner, of Columbia, Rev. J. H. Skidmore, of Jackson, John Kykendall, of Douglass, Isaiah Hacker, of Coos, Alanson Hinman, of Clatsop, Mrs. A. J. Duniway, at large.

It is hoped that members of the Executive Committee, and all others interested, will take such prompt and energetic action, in their several counties and localities, that such a a representation of indefatigable temperance workers of sound judgment may constitute the ensuing Convention, that we may be able to place ourselves in such a position that our influence may be felt and recognized.

SALEM, Jan. 8, 1873.

We do not believe in the doctrine of total depravity, but are of the opinion that boys are hopelessly given to scientific experimenting. A youth in western Kentucky lately gave way to this propensity in church by inserting a package of revolver cartridges in the coal scuttle and waiting for the effect. Presently, after the fire was replenished, the cartridges went off, and the minister and congregation hurriedly followed their example. Well, boys will be boys, you know!

One of the most touching instances of devotion to the memory of the departed is told in a Portland paper. Fourteen years ago an old woman fell dead of the heart disease while winding the family clock at the hour of ten in the morning. On each succeeding anniversary of the melancholy occurrence, that old clock stops at ten o'clock. It is evidently brooding in silence over the remembrances of its old mistress. Such devotion is rarely seen, no, not among dogs.

Col. Forney has entered the lists as a champion of Horace Maynard, of Tennessee, for Speaker of the House of Representatives. He says Mr. Blaine must give way.

The Commissioners to select a model for the monument to Gen. Rawlins have chosen that presented by J. A. Bailly, of Philadelphia.

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

EASTERN DATES TO JANUARY 10.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—In the Senate a number of bills were introduced, among them the bill raising the salary of Bureau officers in the Executive Department of Washington. Also bill to incorporate the European and American Emigration Company. The bill includes names of a dozen incorporators from as many States. The bill empowers the company to buy, sell and hold real estate, provided it shall not own more than a million acres at any one time; to make and enforce contracts for emigration of foreigners to the United States, or upon hypothecation of real estate mortgages for any period of credit payable by way of annuities or otherwise; to issue bonds to the extent of the value of its assets, and receive money or securities on deposit at legal rates of interest.

Several bills passed, including a bill to authorize Deputy Collectors of Customs to act as disbursing agents in certain cases; the bill to repeal certain provisions of law relating to advancement in the navy; the House bill to amend act to establish a department of justice; the House bill to prevent certain officers of the United States from practicing as attorneys at law or as solicitors in U. S. Courts in certain cases.

The Senate resumed consideration of the Indian Appropriation bill, the consideration of which was concluded. The bill was reported to the Senate, and an amendment providing for the removal of the Winnebagoes and Wisconsin Indians, not concurred in.

The House bill reported from Committee on Commerce to amend act for appointment of Shipping Commissioners, by Mr. King, applies to masters of vessels engaged in the coast trade with ports of British North America, West India Isles and the Republic of Mexico. The bill passed.

The House took up a bill reported at last session from Committee on Commerce to promote emigration to the United States. The bill creates a Bureau of Emigration for carrying steerage passengers to the United States. The bill was finally, on motion of Wood, referred to the Committee of the Whole, which practically kills the bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—In the Senate on motion of Wright $1,000 were appropriated to pay the expenses of select committee to investigate the charges against Senator Clayton.

Wilson introduced a bill for the appointment of a commission on prohibitory liquor legislation.

A bill throwing open all branches of the army to citizens irrespective of race or color.

On motion of Morton, the Committee on Elections were allowed to sit during sessions of the Senate while investigating the charges against Senator Caldwell of Kansas.

The bill to amend the banking act, providing for return to specie payment was taken up.

Senatorial Nominations.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The President to-day nominated Wm. Mitchell Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Utah, vice Strickland resigned.

Goat Island.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Gen. Humphrey's report, sent to the Senate yesterday, favors the relinquishment of the northern 28 acres of the eastern and southern shores of Goat Island for commercial purposes.

General Barnard, Chief of Fortification Board, reports that the island should be strongly fortified, and its joint occupation would be very objectionable. Also that filling the shoal waters on the Oakland shore would injure the harbor. Though a proper bridge would not.

The Pacific coast engineers under head of General Alexander, report in favor of retaining the whole Island for public benefit. A surrender of any portion sacrifices a part of the security of San Francisco, because the occasion results in building a commercial city in the middle of the bay, which, in time of war, would be easily fired, thus necessitating the abandonment of fortifications and capture of San Francisco. They strongly condemn the proposed relinquishment.

Epigrammatic.

It is stated in a Washington special that the French Minister there remarked on the death of Napoleon: "Empire is dead, now the man is dead."

EASTERN STATES.

Non Explosive.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—At Morton Station, Pennsylvania, last night Mrs. Carr and three children were burned to death by the explosion of non explosive burning fluid while filling a lamp.

A Printers' Monument.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The compositors of the Tribune at a meeting to-day, approved the the proposition that printing offices of the United States should each give one or more pounds of old type for the purpose of making a statue of Greeley, to be erected over his grave. They ask the compositors throughout the country to give the proceeds of a thousand ems, set up on February 3d, next, the sixty-second anniversary of the birth of Mr. Greeley the money to be forwarded to the President of the New York Typographical Union, No. 6, at 23 Duane street, of which Greeley was the first President.

Stokes Preparing for an Appeal.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Council of Stokes are still engaged preparing a bill of exceptions. Stokes says that the exceptions number twenty-eight. The bill will be presented at the general term of Court of Oyer and Terminer Wednesday next; he has no doubt of obtaining a new trial.

Billiards.

A billiard match for the championship of America and a diamond cue, was won by Cyril Dion. Dion scored 1,500 to Daly's 1,147.

A New Indictment.

Woodhull and Col. Blood were arrested this morning and locked in the Ludlow Street Jail on a new indictment of circulating obscene literature through the mails.

Mr. Trumbull's Successor.

CHICAGO, Jan 10.—The Republican Legislative caucus at Springfield, last night nominated Governor elect, R. J. Oglesby, for U. S. Senator.

Fire.

The St. Nicholas hotel at Springfield, was damaged by fire and water last night to the amount of $14,000.

Wintry.

Extreme cold weather with a severe snow storm, has prevailed throughout the northwest the past three days. The thermometer here yesterday, stood six degrees below zero; this morning at 6 o'clock, 8° below. The trains on many railroads are snowed up in Iowa. On the Minnesota division of the Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, a passenger train was snowed in yesterday three miles from any town. Railroads throughout Michigan are in similar condition to those in Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota. The storm is accompanied with the most remarkable electric display ever known here, interfering considerably with telegraphing.

Poisoning.

ALBANY, Jan. 10.—Elias Houghtaling has been arrested in Coemans on suspicion of poisoning tea and sugar which he presented to a family named Hazelton in that place. Hazelton, his wife and one child partook of the sugar and tea. The husband and child are yet sick.

Frozen to Death.

CAIRO, Ill., Jan. 10.—Yesterday morning a small boat drifted past Columbus, Ky., containing two dead men. They were surrounded by a field of heavy ice so that they could not be reached from shore. It is supposed they were attempting to cross the river above and got caught in the ice and froze to death.

Georgia.

ATLANTA, Jan. 10.—The Governor's message was delivered yesterday. It shows the receipts for 1872 to be $2,101,340 81; disbursements, $1,335,267 14; public debt, $816,650. The valuation of State property is put at $334,402,468.

A Big Steal.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—There is some excitement at Poughkeepsie at the discovery of the ex-County Treasurer, who is now under arrest for defrauding the county of about $150,000.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

From Paris.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—This evening the news of the Emperor's death reached here at a late hour. It is not yet possible to estimate the effect it will have on Imperialists. Of course they are profoundly affected, and appear to regard the event as a final blow to their hopes. The only evening journal that has an editorial upon the subject is the Messager de Paris, an influential organ. It closes a brief article with the following tribute: "Disaster, which made shipwreck of the Empire, will not cause to be forgotten the great services Napoleon has rendered the nation, re-establishing order and developing the prosperity of the country." None of the other evening papers had time to do more than to print without comment.

From London.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—In the course of a speech at the Devonshire Agricultural Chamber yesterday, Sir Stafford Northcote, while declining to discuss the merits of the Treaty of Washington, declared he intended to support the Government's policy in regard to it. He urged the speedy payment of the damages given by the Geneva Board.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Empress Eugenie and household at Chiselhurst, were present at the bedside of Napoleon when he died. The Emperor showed slight signs of consciousness toward his last moments and spoke to the Empress twice in a very feeble tone of voice. The last indication of life was a smile when the Empress knelt to kiss her dying husband. She was completely overcome by emotion and fainted at his bedside. Prince Imperial, who had been summoned by telegraph from Woolwich, arrived at Chiselhurst fifteen minutes after the death. Queen Victoria sent a message of condolence. The Prince of Wales and Prince Teck visited Chiselhurst yesterday. The remains will probably be placed temporarily in St. Mary's Church. The Prince of Wales has requested a postponement of all French plays at the theaters in London as well as of a ball which was about to be given in his honor. It is said that the Dean of Canterbury Cathedral offered, subject to the approval of the Home Office, a crypt in that cathedral beneath the crown of Thomas a Becket, as temporary tomb for his remains.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—The work of selecting a jury in the Russel murder trial was not finished last night and was resumed to-day.

If the weather continues fair, there will be races at the Agricultural Park to-morrow, in which five or six well known trotters will compete, mile heats, best three in five.

The troubles of the shipping commissioner seem interminable.

John McDonald a sailor boarding house keeper, is about to take Col. Stevenson before Judge Hoffman for refusing to ship two sailors from his house. Col. Stevenson gave his reason for the refusal that the house was not a reputable one.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—The Board of Harbor Commissioners met to-day. Rosenfeld and O'Farrell were the only members present. It was shown the earnings of all the wharves during nine years and six months were $1,833,303 70.

The steamer Costa Rica, in tow of the Constitution, passed up the Santa Barbara channel about 4:30 yesterday afternoon. They will probably arrive here on Sunday.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—On New Year's evening Robert Omally got into a quarrel with William Hill and shot him, wounding him in the head. Hill was taken to the hospital and died this afternoon from the effects of injuries. A charge of murder was preferred against Omalley, who was arrested at the time.

The liabilities of George Clifford who failed yesterday, are stated at $75,000. He had been dealing extensively in rice. Chinese merchants are said to be the principal creditors.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—A jury was obtained to-day for the trial of Chas. A. Russell for the murder of James Crathy.

Sophie Decker, who was so badly injured by a street car to-day, is not expected to live.

Goodall & Nelson have bought the steamer Constitution and will place her on the route to Southern ports.

The Great Republic will probably be ready to sail for Panama on the 17th.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 10.—The Tucson Arizona Citizen of the 4th inst has advices from Camp Grant of December 31st which says: Gen. Crook received this morning a dispatch from Major Brown, stating his command had killed 57 Apaches and captured 23, also had captured 15 horses, with loss of only one Pima Indian. Captain Burns from McDowell with one troop of cavalry and 70 Pima Indians assisted. The fight occurred at a natural fortification on Salt river, thirty miles above McDowell. It took five hours hard work to dislodge the enemy. The Apaches taken from Camp Grant to assist, behaved very bravely and obediently. In an editorial the Citizen says substantially that the killing and capture of Indians by troops during the past few months must amount to hundreds.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—The weather continues unusually warm; few signs of rain.

Efforts are making to start a new daily newspaper, independent in politics, with a capital of $22,000. The Company propose to start the paper when 80 per cent. of the capital stock shall be subscribed and paid in.

The champion old person has been found at Los Nietos, in this county, a native California woman aged 137 years, active and well.

SANTA ROSA, Jan. 10.—John Acker and Chas. Montgomery, two prisoners who escaped from the county jail on Christmas night, were tried to-day before Judge Overton, and both found guilty of grand larceny. To-morrow they will have a chance to be heard again before a jury on the charge of burglary.

LETTER FROM YAMHILL.

NORTH YAMHILL, Jan. 9, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

"Bully for you!" I see that you have gone for that doctor in a most glorious style, and in your article you speak of your duty as a journalist. I think you have done well, and now I want you to do a little better and go for some people in this county who want roads. We have come all the way from the plains across to get away from roads, and now, since that old humbug, Ben Holladay, built his railroad out here and established a depot, there is a class of men who want a road to the depot. Pretty out, indeed! This valley is only five or six miles wide at this point, and we already have a sixty-foot road slap through it lengthwise, and now what do we want of cross-roads? and then there is one eight miles below here anyhow, and that's nigh enough. They talk about it increasing the value of our lands, but we don't want the value increased. We might have to pay more taxes. Pretty out, indeed, to make us have to pay taxes just because we own a section or such a matter of land. The Bible says that there will be wars and rumors of wars, and this will be one of them if they try to build a road by my house.

O, those were good old days, when we had nothing but trails, and no infernal railroads nor wagon roads to bother us. It is true that it cost us $20 a ton to get goods from Portland, when now it only costs $6; but then who would have a road through their claim for that difference? Before the railroad was built, we could get grain delivered in Portland for about $10 per ton when the roads were dry. Now, if we did have a wagon road to Ben Holladay's internal depot, he would charge us $3 50 per ton, making the paltry difference of $6 50 on a ton. Now, this little valley raises only about one hundred thousand bushels of wheat each year, or three thousand tons, and the difference in the freight on it all would only amount to $19,500. Some say there are butter, pork and eggs besides; but I don't care if there are. They can be hauled in wagons, as we have always done. If we can't have a railroad without a depot, and can't have a depot without a wagon road, they may go to thunder with the whole thing. In fact, I don't like railroads anyhow, since one of our boys tied Carlo on the east side road and got the poor dog killed. Do something to help us out.

SATURDAY MORNING JANUARY 11 1873

Utah and Colorado

The bill for the admission of Colorado is likely if present appearances are to be trusted, to be sacrificed to the feeling in Congress on the question of the admission of Utah The Colorado bill was introduced at the last session, and would pass before the 4th of March but for the fact that those who desire the admission of Utah also are determined to have the bill so amended as to include both the Territories in its provision It is claimed by the advocates of the Colorado bill that the Territory has a population of over one hundred thousand souls and that in a very short time the number will exceed one hundred and forty thousand On behalf of Utah it is asserted that its population is now large enough to entitle it to admission under the ratio of Congressional apportionment, and that it is increasing more rapidly in population than any other Territory of the Republic In the matter of population a fair count would doubtless show that both lack a great deal of having the population which would entitle a State to a Congressman It is also more than probable that Colorado would fall further short of the population generally supposed to be requisite, than Utah The latter had, in 1870, according to the census of that year, a total of 86 786, and the former only 39 864 The increase in Colorado has been considerable, but that in Utah cannot have been less

But the want of the population which is supposed to be represented by one Congressman according to the established ratio of apportionment, is not an insuperable objection to the admission of a new State Precedent for the admission, under such circumstances, are abundant. Oregon, Nevada and Nebraska are instances of it Population is an important element for consideration upon the question of admission, but it is not the only consideration Colorado with its small population, could be admitted if it did not have to carry Utah And Utah could be admitted if it did not have to carry polygamy. This is the stumbling block The moral sense of the nation is shocked by a social system so entirely at variance with the spirit of Christian civilization It is not likely, therefore, that Utah can gain admission into the Union, until it comes with a constitution that renders polygamy impossible And unless Colorado can be divorced from Utah, her admission will, in all likelihood, be indefinitely postponed.

Giltner Finds an Advocate

The Catholic Sentinel thinks it is not proper for public journals to complain of the inducent conduct of Dr J S Giltner in connection with the schools. It says

> It is plain that, if the Doctor has outstepped the law in the premises, the law also offers a remedy, and we reprehend the conduct of the papers publishing the, no doubt, highly colored accounts of the difficulty, for it is plain to every sensible mind, that all this must have a very deleterious influence upon the morals of the children, whose ideas of the respect for the authority of parents and superiors are not very stable now, and will, by such occurrences among Directors and teachers, be eventually entirely destroyed

Let us examine the Sentinel's position analytically Its first proposition is in substance that when a public officer violates the law and outrages community, public journals should refrain from mentioning the fact, because the law affords redress This position is refuted when it is stated.

But there are many offenses against common decency, for which the law does not afford any redress There is no legal punishment for Giltner's falsely representing that his attempt to force Miss Taylor out of the school without authority of law, was made in pursuance of an order of the Board of Directors There is no legal punishment for his serving upon teachers who already hold unexpired certificates of qualification, notices signed by himself as Chairman of the Board, and falsely purporting to have been issued by order of the Board, requiring them to appear for re-examination There is no legal punishment for his shameless exhibition of himself before the scholars and teachers of the Harrison street school on last Tuesday morning There is no legal punishment for his thrusting himself between the Superintendent and the teachers undergoing examination, and blustering about his purpose to "put them through if they don't toe the mark" And, to go back to the foundation of the matter, there is no legal punishment for his converting the school election into a disorderly mob, in order to foist himself into the position he now disgraces, against the protest of nine-tenths of the legal voters of the district of all parties And yet these grievances are tangible and real They are injurious to the schools, they are humiliating to the teachers, they are offensive to good morals, they are without authority of law or precedent in practice, they are simply an intolerable outrage upon the community

The Sentinel fears the action of the press in denouncing the conduct of this man Giltner will have a tendency to weaken the respect of the school children for their superiors If it destroy their respect for a man who, by his position, may be regarded by them as a suitable object for their emulation, but who not only in his conduct in connection with the schools, but by his previous life ought rather to be shunned than imitated it will accomplish some good

As to the statement that our accounts of this man's conduct are colored, we stand ready to show that the half has not yet been told

But we apprehend the real secret of the Sentinel's objection to our course is discovered in another sentence in the article in question, wherein that journal declares it is not in favor of the public school system as it exists in this city The defense of Giltner is a stab at the schools, and it is therefore a labor of love We say this because the Sentinel itself does not hesitate, before closing its article to pronounce another act of the Board of School Directors, "a clear case of robbing the tax payers of the city" If to call the Directors robbers will not, in the Sentinel's estimation weaken the respect of the children for them, that journal must have very singular ideas as to the characteristics which ought to command respect We have some curiosity to know upon what theory of morals the Catholic Sentinel deprecates whatever may tend to weaken the respect of the youth of Portland for a person whom it declares to be a robber

We give this morning an interesting article on the "Hawaiian Islands—Chances for Annexation," written by a gentleman who has lived for some years in the island, and occupied prominent positions in connection with the Government He speaks from personal observation

Hon. E B Washburne, Minister to France has returned to his post of duty.

The Hawaiian Islands—Chances for Annexation

Considerable speculation is being indulged in regard to the annexation of these islands to the United States There can be no doubt that it is desirable that they should be annexed It is the great half way house as it were on the road to China all the South Sea islands and Australia It is important as a watering place and naval station But it is far more important in another point of view to the people of the Pacific coast If it were annexed to the United States it would make cheaper and more plentiful here an article of universal consumption—sugar Hawaiian sugars would then come into our ports free of the enormous duty which added to the cost price and freight taxes us so highly upon one of our necessary articles of consumption Open to American capital where there are now some twenty one or two sugar plantations on the islands there would be two or three hundred Coffee culture would also spring up and benefit us in the same manner but not perhaps, in the same ratio

But the difficulties standing in the way are great—if not almost insuperable By the telegraph we hear of something stated by Gen McCook as to the probabilities of success He is reported as saying that if the American Minister is a man of management he could accomplish the matter He seems not to know that the American Minister Mr Pierce is properly speaking more of a Hawaiian citizen than even an American or a Massachusetts man of which State he is native That he is the reputed father of Pauahi Mrs Bishop, who is a claimant for the vacant throne, and that besides all he would lose his high rank as Minister, even to that small kingdom, and be obliged to return to fitting out whaleships at Bedford It is not, therefore, probable that his management will resolve itself into any thing greater than a 'masterly inactivity He is also reported as saying 'that in all departments of the late Government, the Americans are in the ascendancy' This statement is not true in point of fact and even if it were it might not be of much moment for reasons we will hereafter give. Taking the first great department of the Government, let us see how it is composed There is no Minister of Foreign Affairs The Attorney General, Stephen H Phillips, is a native of Massachusetts, who, in 1867 when the Lackawana affair occurred, in a public speech, 'thanked God that he was not an American citizen'" It is not probable his Americanism will be very strong now, without it has grown exceedingly F W Hutchinson, the Dr Longhost of Melville's Omoo, is a Lowland Scotchman of intense British prejudices, whose private opinion, many times publicly expressed, are that all Americans are d—d Yankees, and who has been shivering for fear for the last four years that they would steal the islands from his beloved Royal master, and so terminate his official career Robert Stirling, Minister of Finance, is of the same nationality, tastes and disposition and Hutchinson is his master Not much may be expected of these three who are now the Regency Something over one half of all the Government officials are English and German, and all of them owe their appointments to these three Ministers, and their continuance in office depends upon monarchy and not on annexation. No very great amount of disinterestedness may be therefore expected from them

Almost all the plantations are in the hands of Americans Annexation would destroy the system of slavery called the master and servant law, upon which their plantations are conducted, would bring about competition, and as now situated, their personal damage would be greater than the benefits derived from annexation. Their talk will, as Americans, be publicly for it—but their strength will be secretly cast against it

The missionaries, a large proportion of the merchants and three fourths of the natives if they could have a fair and free expression of their will, would favor it This they will not have The last Legislature, which has been called by the Regency to determine the succession, consists of the three Regents sitting as Ministers with the right to vote and and debate, the Governors of four Islands appointed by the late King, four nobles who were personal retainers of the late King, the two prominent aspirants for the throne, Kalakaua and Lunalilo, and Bishop, the husband of another aspirant, and five others who are either relatives to the principal aspirants or aspirants themselves Annexation will go begging in that crowd The Representatives number thirty, and sit and vote with the nobles Out of the thirty there will not be more than ten who have not been elected by Government influence or who dare call their souls their own It is said by the Commercial Advertiser that the majority of the people favor free government It is also said that no fear of disturbance may be apprehended, that the people are peacable That is true They are peaceable to an alarming degree, and we may rest assured that they will never weigh the benefits to be obtained from a free government against the hazard of encountering a musket ball Constitution or no constitution, monarchy limited or absolute or even annexation by force still the people will be peaceable There will be no disturbance

The Greeks are having a quarrel with the French and Italian governments about the valuable silver mines of Laurium These are the mines which anciently supplied Greece with the silver for coinage and from then came the coins now stored in the collections of antiquaries throughout the world They were abandoned for a long period and it is only two years since preparations were completed for working them by modern processes This preparation was made by a company composed of French and Italian capitalists upon concessions made by the Grecian governments of the right to work the mines with guaranties for protection The company having expended a vast amount of capital its preparations being for work upon a scale more extensive than that upon which any mine in this country is worked, the Greek government now refuses to stand by its concessions, and the French and Italian governments have taken up the matter on behalf of their citizens

We have received the first number of the Spirit of the West a new weekly paper issued at Walla Walla In his salutatory the editor J W Ragsdale, says While we may be placed as a Republican we propose to preserve our independence as a man, and shall express our honestly formed opinions without fear or favor"

The paper is of the same size as the daily OREGONIAN, and is neatly printed But we like most the manly tone of its reading matter May brother Ragsdale's star long continue to shed its light upon the intellectual world

All through the States East of the Rocky mountains the railway trains and street cars were stopped by the snow during the latter part of December The Eastern journals contain column after column of details of the results of the blockade in different sections And now comes intelligence by telegraph that a similar state of affairs has again set in The mercury has sunk down below zero and the snow is obstructing travel throughout the Upper Mississippi valley How would Oregonians relish this sort of weather? We have not had snow to lie on the ground three days during the winter nor a day when the temperature was below twenty above zero nor three days when it was below thirty

The New Haven Palladium says George Francis Train is the joy and delight of his fellow prisoners in the Tombs He lives upon prison fare and writes innumerable epigrams The kindest thing the Judge can do for him when he comes up for sentence will be to have his mental condition examined into by competent authorities If the man is sane he should have the severest punishment the law allows and if not the sooner he is sent to a lunatic asylum the better He has become a nuisance and ceased to be amusing

Gen Butler in a letter warmly endorsing Secretary Boutwell for Senator to fill the place of Henry Wilson gives Dawes a left handed dig He says, as a reason why Boutwell should be elected he has seen a 'certified stock list' of the Credit Mobilier, and no stock stands to the credit of Mr Boutwell 'with or without accrued dividends He further intimates that he may possibly conclude to take a hand in the Credit Mobilier investigation himself before it is done with

Catacazy does not choke down worth a cent Instead of pining away in disgrace in some out of the way frontier he turns up at Rome with a very important and delicate commission to execute with the Pope for the Czar of Russia He is negotiating the settlement between Pio Nono and Alexander in regard to the new Bishops that are to be nominated in Russia and the pension of the old ones

No doubt the true object of the sailing of the American and British war steamers for Honolulu immediately after the announcement of the death of Kamehameha, was that they might be present to protect the citizens of the respective governments, in case of any emergency rendering action necessary One can readily see that the struggle for the succession might involve foreign citizens in peril

Francis A Walker Indian Commissioner, has resigned in order to accept the chair of political economy in the Sheffield Scientific school

CHIEF ENGINEER'S REPORT.

To the Hon Mayor and Common Council—Gentlemen The law regulating the Fire Department strictly requiring it of the Chief Engineer that he shall report annually in full the status of the Department—its deeds during the time under his control, condition and number of cisterns and hydrants, capabilities and extent of property and apparatus of each company and number of fires and alarms, with amount of loss and insurance In compliance with such law allow me to tender you this my annual report for the year's term of office ending December 31, 1872:

ALARMS

During the past year, the number of false alarms has been 20; the number of fires, 10

LOSS

The amount of loss sustained by the various parties has reached $325 000 amount of insurance not yet ascertained

CISTERNS

During the past year three new cisterns have been completed and added to the number of those now in use by the Department viz corner Fifth and [illegible] streets corner Seventh and Harrison streets, and corner Tenth and Washington streets

HYDRANTS

Four new hydrants have also been erected one at each of the following places corner Front and Pine streets corner Seventh and Main streets corner Tenth and Main streets corner Sixth and Market streets

APPARATUS

Since the last annual report, by which the fire apparatus was returned in good order nothing has occurred to render a different report necessary Some slight repairs have been required which I have ordered done, and all again is in order

HOSE

The hose however is as a general thing in bad order During our late extensive fire the carbolized hose purchased by the city was demonstrated to be by far the best and I am of the opinion that is the cheapest hose to be purchased in the future

ENGINE HOUSES

Your attention has already been called to the fact that the house of Company No 1 is inadequate for the use and accommodation of the Company

With regard to Company No 2 I must report their house as totally unworthy of further repair by reason of the settling of the foundation leaking of the roof and various other indications of decay, this house having been occupied fourteen years It must be returned as unsuitable for further occupancy

Companies Nos 3 and 4 occupy houses concerning which no report is necessary further than that they are both in good order

Hook and Ladder Company No 1 The same report in issue concerning the house occupied by this Company as is returned of Company No 2—viz house unfit or a much greater length of time

BADGES

Since the annual report of my predecessor the Department has been provided with badges which will contribute in a great measure toward doing away with much of the confusion ever consequent upon a fire

CONDITION OF DEPARTMENT

Regarding discipline good order and abilities as firemen I must rank the members of this Department as second to none in the country excelling in all the branches of fire duty

EXPENSES

The expenses connected with the Department have necessarily been somewhat greater than the year preceding amounting in the aggregate to the sum of $11 540 50

Furthermore the following named persons injured by the falling of walls at the time of the fire on the 22d day of December 1872 have ever since been unable to follow their usual avocations to-wit: J F Galligher and Geo Love seriously wounded Robert Holman H Lemlinge J H Moore R H Austin and Kelman slightly

CONCLUSION

In conclusion I would improve this occasion to most cordially thank every member of the Department both by officers of the members for their general co-operation and hearty co-operation with me in endeavoring to save life and property Thus doing their duty I leave them to retire to the ranks To you gentlemen I have to express my sincere thanks for your warm support I most respectfully recommend by me when deemed expedient and to bid you a kind farewell

Respectfully submitted

The Daily Oregonian.

DISGRACEFUL AFFAIR.—Yesterday morning a distressing and disgraceful affair occurred on the southern portion of Front street in this city The facts as related to us by an eye witness were as follows A little child of the family had been sick for some days with the sore throat caused by a severe cold, and yesterday morning the disease took an unfavorable turn and on the attending physician informing the parents that in all probability the child would die the husband commenced abusing the wife and mother of the child and charging her with carelessness in caring for the child, and stated that "it was her fault that the child had caught cold" and upon her protesting that she had neglected nothing intentionally, he reaffirmed his previous charges in terms more forcible than polite and enforced his views by knocking his wife down with a crutch and when a sister of the wife, who happened to be present, tried to interfere and stop the disgraceful proceeding transpiring by the death bed of the dying child, the infuriated monster turned upon her and knocked her down and dragged her partly across the room by her hair, and finally drove both mother and aunt from the house when the services of the police had to be invoked to allow the suffering mother to minister to the wants of her expiring babe The acts of the man are rendered the more inexcusable, if possible, from the fact that his whole proceedings seemed to be in perfectly cool blood,—he not having even intoxication to plead in extenuation of his revolting actions He was arrested and lodged in jail He was subsequently arraigned on two charges of assault and battery and plead not guilty, but in consideration of the fact that the mother could not leave the suffering child to attend the trial it was postponed until to day at 10 o'clock A M, when the whole affair will be investigated before the Police Court.

LOSS OF LOGS—A very heavy loss was sustained on Thursday night about 11 o'clock by the railroad saw mill below the city The boom which confined the logs below the mill, gave way near the shore at the upper end, by the immense strain brought to bear, and between four and five million feet escaped As the great mass of logs began to move down, those near the shore were jammed in between the piling The tremendous pressure caused by the weight of the logs and the power of the current, swept away the piles like so many pipe stems. Everything was carried away. Only a few logs secured above the mill escaped. If the mill was situated below the boom, which was carried off, instead of above, there is but little doubt but what it, too, would have been washed away. The estimated loss is $35,000 As soon as it was known that the logs had escaped the E N Cooke, Mary Bell and Ben Holladay were dispatched after the raft With average luck, it is thought that most of the logs can be captured, but at present the loss falls heavily on the company. The mill has closed down in consequence of not being able to obtain logs.

INSANE MAN—Mr. Thompson, the Deputy Warden from the Penitentiary, brought down yesterday William McFadden, who was adjudged insane a few days ago by the County Judge of Marion county McFadden was placed in the Asylum yesterday evening. This man was convicted and sentenced for life at the fall term of the Circuit Court for Linn county for the crime of incest. After being removed to the Penitentiary McFadden manifested strong symptoms of insanity, which grew continually worse until it was thought best to have him removed to the Asylum It is stated that he has been laboring under mental disorder at intervals for the past fifteen years.

A WORTHLESS VAGRANT—A man named Flynn was arrested over a month ago for stealing and vagrancy, and sentenced to the jail for one month. His term of confinement expired over a week ago. Last evening he was again arrested for vagrancy and begging for whisky, and lodged in jail. Flynn seems to be a hopeless case—beyond reformation We learn that he is an old offender. Some years ago Flynn was convicted of robbing a "charity box" from a Catholic Church in Victoria, and sentenced to three year's confinement. After serving out his time, he came to this city, where he has been a constant source of trouble and expense.

A ROUGH TUMBLE.—A man named Clarkson, who was laboring last evening under the hilarious effects of spirits, lost his balance at the foot of Salmon street and rolled down to the water's edge. The bank at that point is over thirty feet high, and nearly perpendicular. Along this declivity is scattered cuttings from tin shops, old castings, etc. In the descent Clarkson's face came in violent contact with the sharp corners of the debris, and was severely cut. Had he rolled but a few feet further he would have landed in the water, at the risk of drowning He was picked up, with his face bleeding profusely, and taken away.

REFRACTORY BOVINES—Yesterday morning the drivers of a number of cattle had a lively time in getting the aforesaid animals on board the Stark street ferry. At one time one of the cattle jumped into the river, and was only saved from drowning by the exertions of several men, who pulled it out They were again crowded on the boat, but seeing a chance for escape, they all jumped into the river from the end of the boat, swimming ashore at the foot of Oak street The ferrymen, disgusted, moved off for the east side landing, leaving the cattle to wait for the next trip.

AN OPPOSITION STEAMER—It is rumored that certain parties in San Francisco are making arrangements to put on a line of opposition steamers between Portland and that point as soon as the Willamette River Navigation Company's steam boats are ready to run and supply them with freight from up the valley As the steamer Annie Stewart, and the new boat now being built, will be ready to run in the course of two months, a lively competition in freight and passage may soon be expected between here and San Francisco, if there is any foundation in report.

SOON TO BUILD—For the last two weeks a number of men have been engaged in clearing away the debris and separating the brick from crumbling mortar, at the corner of Alder and Front streets. It is Mr. Carter's intention to commence the rebuilding of a large three story brick on the site of his former one, as soon as the old walls can be cleared down to the rock foundation Work will not be delayed on account of inclemency of the weather, as the corner is too valuable to be suffered to remain idle long

A SERMON—A sermon will be preached at the Court House to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock by one Catherine Schortz, on the "Ingathering of souls, for the redemption of spirit, soul and body, to enter into Life Eternal" We are totally ignorant of the creed, faith or doctrine espoused by the sermonizer, but as the pews are free, we would advise all to attend who may have any curiosity to hear what may be set forth by the speaker

PREPARED FOR FIRE—The sad lesson taught by the late fire in this city has produced a salutary effect. The Board of Trustees for East Portland have considered very properly that delays are hazardous sometimes, and have provided against the destruction of the archives of that municipality by the purchase of a large fire proof safe. The safe was moved over yesterday, and is now in the Council Chamber.

INSTALLED—To-morrow at one o'clock P M the officers elect of the Catholic Library and Christian Doctrine Society will be installed into their several offices, at a meeting to be held at the rooms of the Society on Stark street. At the same time and place, the outgoing officers will present their annual reports of the transactions and state of the different departments over which they presided during the year just passed

GERMAN AID SOCIETY—This Society has engaged the Masonic Hall in which to hold their lottery, bazar and ball on the 3d, 4th, 5th and 6th of next month. Cordes' Band have been engaged for the occasion, and the Turn Verein have volunteered to sing and enliven the evenings by acrobatic and gymnastic exercises The ball will be given on the evening of the 6th.

CLUB MEETING—There will be a regular meeting of the Sportsmen's Club at the Police Court this evening. The Constitution By Laws and Game Law included, having been received from the printer, will be turned over to the Club by the committee to whom the matter had been intrusted. Copies will probably be ready for sale by next Monday.

WHO IS HE?—We find the following in the British Colonist of the 7th inst.: "Mr. W Kohl, formerly of this city, will probably be made Post Master at Portland, Oregon" Who is Mr W Kohl, and where is he?

EXCAVATION COMMENCED—Excavation will be commenced to day in East Portland for the foundation of the new brick building which is contemplated the present season by Messrs Raffety Bros As soon as the weather becomes settled the masonry work will be commenced Thus far this is the only brick building projected this season by any firm of that city

MAKING PREPARATIONS—The members of the Washington Guard are making extensive preparations to give a grand ball at the Armory on the night of the 22d of February in honor of the birthday of the illustrious father of his country From the preparations made and in contemplation, the occasion promises to be a grand affair

RAILROAD IRON—The bark [illegible] is receiving a portion of the railroad iron which was discharged at this port several weeks ago by the Victoria Nyanza The bark will complete her cargo down the river with fish and lumber The iron will be shipped to San Francisco and will be used by the Central Pacific Railroad

CARBOLIZED HOSE—The last steamer from San Francisco brought up 500 feet of carbolized hose which makes the 1,000 feet purchased some time ago by the Chief Engineer, under instruction from the Common Council This will meet one of the deficiencies which the late fire so clearly demonstrated—want of hose

RETURNED—Mr J H Brenner late of Albany has returned to this city, the scene of his former triumphs Mr Brenner is well known here and up the valley as a finished performer on the piano and violin He has opened a school at the St Charles Hotel where he will give lessons in music We heartily wish him success.

RECOVERING—Mr Day, the gentleman who was severely injured by a fall from a wagon in East Portland on last Monday, is rapidly recovering, and will soon be in a condition to proceed to his home in Clackamas county His injuries are of a far less serious character than was at first apprehended

SENT TO VANCOUVER—Mr C J Fitzgerald a member of the Hibernian Benevolent Society, who has been taken ill with brain fever, was on Sunday sent to the Sister's Hospital at Vancouver, by the Society, who are prompt to lend assistance to sick and suffering members of the Order.

FIREMEN'S ELECTION—There will be an election on the first Thursday of next month held by the several fire companies of the city Each company will elect a Foreman, First and Second Assistant and three Delegates, which are to constitute the Board for the coming year.

FOG AGAIN—Early yesterday morning the fog was so dense that objects could be discerned but a short distance. Over the river it hung unusually dense. In consequence the steamer did not reach Vancouver on her passage up the Columbia for fully an hour after the usual time.

OREGON IRON WORKS.—An annual meeting the Directors of the Oregon Iron Works was held on the 8th inst. The following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year President, David McCully, Vice President, E N. Cooke, Secretary J. M Sparrow.

SUNDAY EVENING LECTURE—Mrs. Duniway will lecture to-morrow evening at Oro Fino Hall upon "An Industrial School for Portland" Let our citizens turn out en masse and give this subject the attention its importance deserves

CARGO COMPLETED—The steamer Dixie Thompson returned yesterday from Astoria, having carried down the last load of grain for the Victoria Nyanza This vessel is now ready to sail for Liverpool

REGULAR MEETING—A regular meeting of the First Hebrew Benevolent Association will be held at the Vestry rooms of the Synagogue Beth Israel on Sunday, January 12th, at 1½ o'clock P M.

LARGE ATTENDANCE.—The funeral obsequies of the late J. W. Davis was largely attended yesterday by the friends of the deceased. The remains were buried in the Lone Fir Cemetery.

POSTPONED—The case of the three sailors from the bark Rival was postponed until ten o'clock this morning, when a hearing will be had before Commissioner Wilcox.

TALKED OF.—We learn that the erection of a Masonic Hall in East Portland the present year, is being agitated by the members of the order of that place.

AMUSEMENTS.

A social party will be given at the American Exchange next Thursday evening.

On Thursday evening next, a social hop will be given at the American Exchange Hotel.

A social dance will be given at Nonpareil Hall on Thursday evening next, by the members of Baker Post, G A. R.

The Hibernian Benevolent Society has selected the evening of the 17th of March—St Patrick's Day—for their annual ball.

The public are promised a capital bill this evening at the Theater. The entertainment will open with Shakespeare's splendid and attractive comedy of "Taming the Shrew," in which Miss Denin will assume Catharine, and Mr. Waldron Petruchio The romantic drama of "Ireland as it Is" will conclude the performance.

Miss Kate Denin's benefit at Oro Fino Theater last evening was a flattering and substantial testimonial of the esteem in which that popular actress is held by this public. The auditorium was crowded to repletion by an intelligent and refined assemblage of ladies and gentlemen. The programme for the evening was selected with taste and care, and the cast judiciously distributed so as to include the whole strength of the company The leading feature of the occasion was Boucicault's sensational play of "Driven from Home or the Wife of two Husbands," which was presented first. This play was rendered in capital style and was heartily applauded throughout At the close of the play Mr. Piercy recited "Sheridan's Ride's in a manner which won for him hearty applause Mr. Crosbie next recited a burlesque entitled "Schneider's Ride," which fairly convulsed the audience with laughter, and procured an overwhelming enchore for that special favorite The whole performance concluded with the comical and laughable farce of "A Night in East Portland"

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THE FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH OF PORTLAND,

BY REV G H ATKINSON, D D

[Furnished by request]

The history of a Church of Christ for a series of years in any community, must contain facts of great interest Consider merely its regular Sabbath gathering of families, its social reunions and forming of new acquaintances and relationships and you will find elements of great power and value Here ideas of reform spring into action, because heart touches heart, and will ranks itself with will, in a united purpose Add to these influences the constant impress of God's truth and Spirit upon the conscience, stamping the character with the solemnities of the two worlds, and you have the highest and most effective culture of which the human soul is capable We are amazed at the hold which a few men like Abraham David, Isaiah, Daniel and Paul have upon us even to this day It was not their great learning or wisdom but their godliness that has made them so memorable Augustine, Luther, Knox, or Bunyan, or Wesley could not have made their deep mark upon mankind, except by their religion

The conviction grows upon the thoughtful, that the finest lessons of life and the choicest and most hopeful culture of man are formed in the Church of God The farm the shop the office and the school, furnish important knowledge and discipline for this life but God has endowed his church with a high wisdom and thought, that embrace all of our present being, and grasp for us immortal things

The man who frequents God's sanctuary lays by his burdens without losing the proper care of them and refreshes his intellect, his affections and his will from divine fountains

It is a repose of the spirit, like sleep for the body It is that normal change of theme and emotion which is needed for the recovery of wearied and wasted energies Let two laborious men be found, one a constant worshiper in God's house and the other a neglecter of it, and in the progress of months and years the former will be found the stronger, other things being equal, in body and mind, more intelligent, as well as more upright, more energetic and more prosperous "The hundred fold reward" is given here while the promise of life everlasting gilds the vision of the future This is true of families and of communities. The church perfects the family, strengthens its bonds and sweetens its communion It began in the household of the patriarch, and every family has its organic elements, which may be moulded into form, "Man alone" says Dr Scott, "of all the inhabitants of the earth, is made capable of feeling, acknowledging and expressing the glory of God" In this he should be trained and nurtured

How beautiful the sight of families around the home altar, or wending their way to God's house of worship

"The hoary head is a crown of glory, if it be found in the way of righteousness."

The history of any true Church of Christ, although it may have a coloring of its own denomination, is yet in substance the history of all. Ours is not peculiar Our manual records that, "early in 1848-9, Rev J S Griffin, Rev. Harvey Clarke and Rev G H Atkinson preached occasionally in this city, then a collection of about a dozen families. In Nov, 1849, Rev. H. Lyman, arrived and commenced preaching and teaching In 1850 he began to build the first house of worship, for which the town proprietor, D H. Lownsdale, Esq, gave the lots, and the citizens made liberal subscriptions The edifice was completed at the cost of $6,408 54, of which $4,083 81 were then paid, leaving a debt of $1,955 31, which was afterwards paid.

It was dedicated June 15, 1851, the above named ministers taking part in the services. On the same Sabbath the Church of ten members was organized. Rev. H Lyman was acting pastor four years and a half from Nov 1849; Rev. G. H Atkinson, one and a half years, not resident, from May 1854, Rev. P B Chamberlain was pastor six and a half years from Nov 1855, and Rev G H Atkinson nine and a half years from July 1st, 1863

Rev James D Eaton has been called to act as pastor Jan 1st, 1873

Wm. P Abrams acted as deacon ten and a half years, with one intermission, from July 5th, 1851, N C Sturtevant, four and a half years from July 5th, 1851, James W McKee about two years from July 3d, 1859, G Shindler continues the thirteenth year from May, 1860; L M, Parrish continues the eighth year from March 5th, 1865.

The affairs of the Church have been controlled by the members acting in obedience to the law of Christ, which they believe to be the simple church polity of the New Testament.

The Society, a corporate body, by special act of the Legislature in February, 1851, has continued its official existence, and held the property, and been responsible for the material interests of the Church, according to the usual rules of such bodies.

The frequent change of families in this community has constantly affected the growth and prosperity of the Church, but in most respects we have made a steady progress

Up to July 1st, 1863, a period of twelve years, eighty-four members had been received, fifty-four had been dismissed to join other churches, six had died and two had been excommunicated, leaving twenty two on the church roll at that date From July 1st, 1863, to January 1st, 1873, nine and a half years, the official term of the late pastor, one hundred and thirty eight members have been received, fifty five by letter, and eighty three by profession, forty five have been dismissed to join other churches, seven have died and one has been expelled The whole number of admissions from the first, has been two hundred and twenty two, dismissions, ninety nine, and excommunications, three, leaving a present membership of one hundred and seven—forty eight males and fifty nine females Of this number an average of twenty five are usually absent from the city.

The resident working forces of the church have never been large, yet its services have been regularly continued "During two intervals, from the spring of 1854 to the fall of 1855, and from the spring of 1862 to the summer of 1863, the church had no resident acting pastor, yet they for the most part succeeded in supplying the pulpit, though often with difficulty and sacrifice At one time when hope began to fail, a beloved sister, now in heaven, proposed a series of prayer meetings They were commenced by a few remaining members, who worked faithfully and harmoniously The spirit of prayer was manifested, and by the blessing of God their hopes began to revive, and the church became more firmly established

The comparatively large addition of twenty eight to the church in 1865, occurred after a series of evening prayer meetings during two months, together with faithful personal efforts by the members to lead others to the Saviour"

The addition of fifty six members in 1867 followed the daily union prayer meetings of many months, together with the labors of Rev E B Earl.

The list of additions are as follows: In 1863 three, 1864, six, 1865, twenty eight, 1866 four 1867, fifty six, 1868 six 1869, ten, 1870 four 1871, fourteen, 1872, seven

Besides the regular services of worship on Sabbath, and of prayer and conference every week, the Biblical instruction of children and youth, and of the mature also, in the Sabbath School, has continued without intermission for more than twenty one years, bringing many hundreds under its influence

The Sabbath School was organized under Mr Lyman's pastorate early in 1851 It was continued right on when there was no resident pastor by a faithful few, among whom we remember Mrs Dryer, Mrs Corbett and Mrs Skidmore, Messrs Lyman, Abrams, Sturtevant, McKee, Chamberlain, Glenn, Warren Steel and Northrup have been its honored Superintendents, giving their best efforts to this service and receiving the assurance that their labors have not been in vain in the Lord

While keeping alive and active its first Sabbath school, members of the Church have of late labored regularly in three or four other Sabbath schools, two of them mission schools, which give promise of permanent results A few of its members were dismissed two years ago to organize a Church in East Portland

Of the benevolent work of the Church, it may be said that our custom has been to make annual, and also monthly offerings for the poor of the Church and of the community, and for various missionary enterprises, amounting to several hundreds of dollars per year besides paying our current expenses of two or three thousand dollars per annum This has been done in part by adopting the Scripture rule of tithes as the best index of the measure of prosperity which God has granted us

When the question of erecting a new house of worship was before us three years ago, this rule of giving was continued, or adopted by several members The erection, and completion and payment of the new church in 1870 71 at a cost of $20 000, including donations from others and the gift of the bell, may be ascribed, in part at least, to this scripture habit of giving as God prospers us

During these periods the church and congregation have given liberally towards many other christian enterprises Among the lessons taught us by past providences and by the Bible, that of personal privilege and a corresponding responsibility in the church of Christ is clear and impressive

The Savior invests his disciples with all needed power, and opens the way for their most vigorous activity A wide field of christian work is waiting to every one and much more to every church

As it has been our purpose so will we continue to try to win souls to the Saviour, and to establish them in scripture truth and holiness thus honoring God, and gaining the richest blessing to ourselves

The church and congregation with its new and youthful pastor who comes fresh from the fountains of religious instruction, attended by the prayers of many Christian friends hope for to enter upon an era of greater usefulness and prosperity

In this hope all the good will rejoice, and for it all will devoutly pray

A Talk About Tonics.

The object of a tonic is to increase the elasticity and strength of the muscular fibre, and to invigorate the general system As a means of accomplishing these ends, it is expected to improve the appetite and digestive power of the stomach There are certainly important considerations; but to cure dyspepsia, billious affections, chronic debility, intermittent fever, and other complaints involving derangements of the liver, the bowels, the nerves, and the secretive organs generally something more than a mere tonic is required Hostetter's Stomach Bitters may be safely pronounced the best and most wholesome invigorant extant but the other special medical properties which belong to this remarkable vegetable restorative have as much to do with the wonderful results it produces as its tonic virtues For example it has certain alterative qualities which literally change the habit or constitution reestablishing the healthy functions of the body without causing any undue evacuation by perspiration vomiting or purging Its entire effect is to put the whole machinery of life in perfect order to purify all the fluids, including the blood and bile, and not only to operate as an antidote to disease, where it exists but so to strengthen, regulate and otherwise improve the condition of the system as to render it proof against vicissitudes of temperature, change of water, infected air, and other predisposing causes of liver and bowel disturbances and epidemic disorders. Hence it is a medicine for all seasons and climes—useful alike to the traveler and the resident in an unhealthy region, and an invaluable safeguard against the physical disturbances which accrue from cold, damp, inclement weather, as well as against the mental depression which is apt to overwhelm the weak and nervous at this same what gloomy period of the year

SPECIAL CHURCH NOTICES

On Sunday morning the Rev John Rosenberg, will deliver a sermon on "Miracles" at the St Stephen's Chapel, at the corner of Fourth and Madison streets.

PLANTATION BITTERS!
S. T.—1860—X.
This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

Beautiful Woman.
HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM gives to the Complexion the Freshness of Youth.
HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM overcomes the flushed appearance caused by heat, fatigue and excitement. It makes the lady of forty appear but twenty, and so natural and perfect that no person can detect its application By its use the roughest skin is made to rival the pure radiant texture of youthful beauty. It removes redness, blotches and pimples It contains nothing that will injure the skin in the least

THE REGISTERED LETTER.

A Tale of Washington Territory.

(BY DORAX.

Mr. Peterman had been detained in the town of , in the Territory of Washington, several days on business, and expecting an important registered letter to reach him there. In his repeated inquiries for it he had been so worried and snubbed by the pompous little postmaster, that he determined on a plan of revenge. His business required him to travel from thence to Olympia by way of the old military road, which passes through quite a thickly settled region, and his project was to call at every house and leave word that there was a registered letter for the man or lady of the house, as the case might be, at the aforesaid postoffice, and that the postmaster requested him to ask them to go for it immediately. Mr. Peterman prided himself on his keen sense of humor, and it was with the most complacent feelings of admiration of his own witty self, that he started off one morning on what proved to be an eventful journey. When fairly outside the city limits he stopped at the very first house, and politely inquiring who lived there—as if to make sure of delivering his errand correctly—told the tale he had so ingeniously invented. But to the astonishment and horror of Mr. Peterman the mistress of the house gave him to understand that she was the mother-in-law of said postmaster, and had returned within half an hour from a visit to him; and at the inevitable signs of confusion and embarrassment on the part of Mr. Peterman, the lady became decidedly hostile, and turned loose half a dozen hungry hounds upon the traveler, and although he fled precipitately to his horse, the dogs managed to get several hurried but judicious nips at the calves of his legs and small of his back. This first attempt would have been a damper to any one having a less acute appreciation of the comical, but the jolly Peterman was not in the least discouraged. It was an exquisite joke, he thought, to run on the old fellow's mother-in-law the first thing. So he rode merrily along to the next house, half a mile further on, saying, as he alighted from his horse, "here goes for the grandmother." Now, unfortunately again for Mr. Peterman, the old farmer at whose house he now delivered the false errand, was building himself a new kitchen, and had invited a number of his neighbors to assist him to raise the frame that morning. Among others, the son of the postmaster himself had come out from town to lend a helping hand, and of course exposed the falsehood. The old farmer and his friends made up their minds that whoever would go out of his way, as it were, to tell such an uncalled for lie, must have some sinister object in doing so; and after a hasty consultation they concluded the stranger could be no other than Shultz, a notorious criminal and outlaw, who had lately escaped from the Oregon State Prison, and was popularly supposed to be hiding in Washington Territory, and for whose recapture a large reward was offered. Bill Appleton, a retired sailor, suggested that here was a chance for prize money. One thousand dollars! dead or alive!

Mr. Peterman had lingered a little to hear how his news would be received, and through the half opened door, he heard the low, ominous words, "catch him alive! catch him alive, if you can!"

They acted like magic on the terrified man, and in a twinkling he was on his horse. But not until twenty men were after him with ropes and chains, axes, pitchforks, hatchets, and what few rusty fire-arms the house afforded.

Peterman only looked back once in his flight to see them all pause in their pursuit, and to extract a hand-axe from the left shoulder blade of the old farmer that Bill Appleton, in his mad haste for prize money, had wildly thrown at the supposed outlaw.

As soon as the traveler had recovered from his fright, he comforted himself with the thoughts that he must have struck the Territorial Insane Asylum at this last place, and there couldn't be any more of them. So he stopped boldly at the next house, and again repeated the story of the mythical registered letter. This time he was listened to with perfect confidence; and thus encouraged, he kept on his way repeating the same story, varying it only as the distance from town increased, and the credulity of his listeners required.

Of all his many victims, none so eagerly received the news of the registered letter as poor, lazy Mike Hogan.

It was the evening of the second day's ride, that Mr. Peterman stopped in front of Mike's house and inquired who lived there.

"Mike Hogan, sir."

"Is he at home?"

"That is my name, sir."

"Well, Mr. Hogan, I have an errand to you from the Postmaster at . He requested me to stop on my way and tell you that you must come right into town and receipt for a registered letter that is there for you."

"A rigesthered letther—an' what is that, now?"

"Why you see that somebody has sent you some money,—greenbacks, you know,—by mail, and they put it in a registered letter, that there can be no mistake in your getting it. The Postmaster showed it to me, and there must be two or three thousand dollars in it, I should think. Anyway, you had better lose no time in going for it."

"Go for it? go for it, is it? You bet your swate life I'll go for it the morrow."

There was no more peace for poor Mike. He pressed Mr. Peterman to put his horse in the barn and stay over night with him, and the invitation was very gladly accepted, for the next stopping place was a long way off. Before they retired for the night, the insatiable Peterman told Mike that when he arrived at the town, if it should happen to be late, that the postmaster and his family lived up stairs over the postoffice, and if they were asleep, Mike must hammer on the door, when the postmaster would come down and deliver up the letter. And Mike, in turn, declared his intention of not waiting for daylight, but that he should start for the town about the middle of the night; and as he was a bachelor his guest for the night must get his own breakfast in the morning. So about 12 o'clock Mike arose quietly, that he might not disturb his guest, and started off on his long, wearisome tramp with a light heart. He had hardly got beyond hearing from the house, when, in the darkness, there came skulking along the veritable and dreaded Shultz himself, who, tired of tramping on foot, and hearing Mr. Peterman's fine riding horse champing his oats in the barn close by the road side, had noiselessly opened the stable door, saddled the horse and rode peacefully off to some of his secure hiding places. When Mr. Peterman arose in the morning, and discovered his horse was gone, his anger and mortification were intense. He at once accused Mike, to himself, as the thief. Here was a fix! He couldn't go in pursuit, for all the population between Mike's place and the town, he very well knew, would murder him at sight; and well they might. Seeing that there was no other way for him but to patiently foot it to Olympia, he decided at least to have revenge on Mike for his perfidious act. And without more ado, he at once set fire to the barn with its winter store of hay and oats, and to the house itself; and when they were both well blazing, he espied in a field near by, a large pile of cedar rails, and determined to leave nothing but a waste of ashes for Mike, he started to burn them also.

Mr. K——, the Sheriff, had been down to the lower end of the county on some official business, and having taken an early start, was returning home. As he came in view he was astonished to see Hogan's house and barn in flames, and a man in the very act of setting fire to some fence rails. So infatuated was the wretched Peterman, that he never heard the approach of the sheriff until there was no escape. Listening to none of his explanations and protestations, the Sheriff took a pair of handcuffs from his saddle-bags, and fastened them on the wrists of his unresisting prisoner; and tying his feet together with the halter rope, he threw the unhappy man over the horn of the saddle in front of him, as the hunters carry a deer, and started off on a lope for the county-seat and the jail.

Mike took another and nearer road, and therefore saw nor heard nothing of the sheriff and his prisoner. It was past 11 o'clock at night when he reached the town. He went to the postoffice and the shutters were up. The postmaster and his family had long ago retired. It had been an awful day for them too. Never in its history had the little city seen so much excitement. Ever since the early morning crowds of people had been calling for registered letters until the thoroughly bewildered and exasperated official swore, that the "next man dies."

The next man, however, happened to be Jim Charlton, from Burnt Bridge Creek; a man that weighs two hundred and thirty pounds, and was tall in proportion. When he explained that he "wanted that ar greenback letter of his'n," the postmaster, rather hesitatingly, it must be confessed, insinuated that he was about to put an end to Mr. Charlton's existence, as there was no letter for him, nor would there ever be.

Jim was infuriated at what he supposed to be the dishonesty of the postmaster, and quick as lightning, he reached through with his long muscular arm, and grasping the unfortunate office-holder, pulled him quite through the delivery window, much to his personal injury and to the utter ruin of the fragile frame work of letter-boxes, and when the postmaster was finally rescued the doctor had to sew on his other ear.

It was not therefore in a pleasant mood, that the bruised and wounded official heard Mike hammering on the door. He called up his wife and oldest son, and held a council of war. Mike became vexed at the delay and hammered away louder than ever. This decided the family to treat him like a burglar, and the old man opened fire immediately on Mike from the up stairs window, with a navy revolver—all the shots were found the next day in the door of a shoemaker's shop across the street—his son went down stairs and banged away through the shutters, with number three shot, while the old lady did far more execution from the cellar window, with a four pronged fork. She caused Mike after one or two vigorous thrusts in the abdomen, to crawl off on his hands and knees.

Mr. Peterman, the guilty cause of all these misunderstandings was tried and convicted, at the next term of court, for arson. But the judge was lenient in his sentence, for the miserable Peterman proved his previous good character, and respectability, beyond all question, and in consideration of this, he got off with only fifteen years solitary confinement, at Steilacoom.

From the reports of our Eastern exchanges, it is seen that the stringency in the Money market has not at all been confined to the Pacific coast, but that it has been equally severe in all the great Money centers on the Atlantic seaboard. The commercial writers of the country have expended much time and writing material in the development of high sounding theories as to the cause and remedy of the evil, but in most all cases they have failed to make the matter clear to their readers, and the great masses of the public are now only in possession of a knowledge of the fact that many enterprises and branches of commerce are crippled and embarrassed while others are standing still, on account of what can be called by no other name but an actual inadequacy of capital to properly conduct the legitimate business of the country. Beyond this the public is not at all agreed on any one point.

The causes assigned and remedies proposed are almost as various as individual minds. However, we are glad to note that our several exchanges from the older cities of the Union are generally inclined to the belief that, with the turn of the year, a relief is to come from some quarter, and we are sure that from whatever source it may come, it will be heartily welcomed in all business circles. The Commercial Herald of San Francisco on this subject says:

> There is reason to believe, however, that a change for the better is near at hand. The release of money from the Treasury for the extinction of a portion of our floating debt; the constantly arriving receipts for our heavy grain exports, the declaration of dividends by corporated bodies, and the return of money loaned to the interior, will combine to ease the market. It is nevertheless true, that the increase in business of all kinds is more rapid than the increase in the volume of funds with which it is transacted, and a good many millions more could be profitably used in this State. Rates have ostensibly undergone no change, but remain at 1@1¼ per cent. per month in commercial, and 10@12 per cent. per year in savings banks.

Business in our local Money market presents no extraordinary movements. The course of the market is in favor of steady, if not advancing rates of discount. It is quite likely to rule close for two weeks or possibly longer, but all concur in the hope that January will not pass without witnessing a melioration in the tightness so long prevailing.

The Late Decline in Iron.

One of the leading commercial journals of New York, in commenting on the change which has taken place in the condition of the Iron trade in this country and Great Britain, says:

> It seems to be the opinion of consumers as a class, that a crisis has been reached, and that prices must continue to decline until they again touch the point at which, about eighteen months ago, the advance began. The opinion is only in part correct. A crisis has certainly been reached in the Iron trade, but it is only a crisis in artificial values. As showed in these column nearly a year ago, the advance in prices which carried Iron up to $55 per ton for No. 1, was based upon the actual condition and necessities of the trade. Consumption had overtaken production, stocks were reduced to a nominal amount, the demand was active and the necessities of consumers imperative. Then it was suddenly discovered that the world was using more Iron than was being made, speculators became active, large consumers bought all they could find, smaller consumers bought all they could carry, and the result was a panic. Under such conditions it is not to be wondered that the prices of Iron advanced far beyond its actual value, and that the producers knowing that no immediate and rapid increase of production was possible, should have taken advantage of the opportunity thus afforded them to reap the enormous profits placed within their reach. But the effects were what might have been expected. High prices checked the consumption in many directions, and compelled an economy in use which would not otherwise have been observed. Many important enterprises were suspended, the ironing of new railroads was postponed whenever such a postponement was possible, and in a thousand ways the demand fell off. At the same time there was a marked and rapid increase of production. More than fifty new furnaces have been put in blast during the year, and as many more old and abandoned have been refitted and put to work, and the production of the country has increased by many thousand tons. These facts have not escaped the notice of consumers, and a general disposition has prevailed to defer purchases until better terms were offered. Producers, however, preferred to hold their iron rather than sell below the highest prices, and consequently considerable stock have been accumulated and the market has broken under them. It is also said that there has been a change of policy on the part of producers, most of whom now desire that the decline between this and end of the year shall be as great as possible, so that next year consumers shall have the inducement to buy in a rising market. On this point it is unnecessary to express an opinion. Nor is it necessary to say when the desire will be arrested. We believe that no more iron is being produced than can be consumed at fair prices, and when the fictitious values shall have disappeared the legitimate demand will again assert itself. There is, therefore, nothing in the present decline to discourage the liberal investment of capital in the production of Iron, for it must be many years before the supply, at reasonable prices, shall equal the actual requirements of the country.

American Railroads.

[From the New York Chronicle.]

Three-fourths of the railroads in the United States are in a sound financial condition, and of the remainder a very inconsiderable proportion have ever been fortunate enough to borrow money in any foreign country. When such cases have happened, the negotiation has sometimes been infected with some irregular financial taint, such as is hinted at above. Of the 67,000 miles which make up our railroad system, nearly 20,000 miles have been constructed during the past three years. Assuming the cash outlay to have been $35,000 a mile, we have paid out 700 millions of our capital on railroads during the last three years, giving an average expenditure of 233 millions of dollars a year, about one third of which sum we have probably raised from Europe. But three-fourths of these new roads, we are assured on competent authority, are earning interest on all their cost, and some of them considerably more. The foreign market has absorbed few except the choicest securities issued by these successful railroads, and as for the inferior enterprises, a few years of growth, with honest directors and economical management, will probably place them on a much more satisfactory basis.

U. S. Mints.

The following facts concerning the coinage of the United States is from the San Francisco Commercial Herald:

> We have received from General O. H. Lagrange, Superintendent of our Branch Mint, the Annual Report of the Mint Director for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1872. From it we learn that the total value of coinage done at the parent Mint, during the period specified was $4,326,594, representing a total number of 10,406,737 pieces; while the aggregate coinage of our Branch Mint was valued at $20,482,030, in 3,093,200 different pieces; the whole of our coinage being gold and silver; but the work of the parent Mint includes nickel, copper, bronze and even silver bars. The entire coinage of the United States Mint and Branches, from the year 1792 to the end of June, 1872, is shown to have been $1,215,769,416. The coinage of the San Francisco Branch Mint, for the year ended December 31, 1872, was as follows: Double eagles, $15,600,000, eagles, $173,000; half eagles, $262,000; quarter eagles, $25,000, total gold, $16,060,000. Dollars, $9,000; half dollars, $200,000; quarter dollars, $20,750; dimes, $19,000; half dimes, $41,850; total silver, $380,600; grand total, $16,380,600. The coinage for 1871 was $18,005,000 in gold, and $1,136,775 in silver, total, $20,041,785.

Home Produce Market.

We have heretofore noticed that our quotations under this head have been made the subject of criticism by newspaper editors and correspondents up the valley, and have no further reply to make to such assertions as that "The Portland Press favors the buyer," for they are mere assertions, no one making them having ever given any reason for the charge. But we may here remind all our readers that in our quotations of the produce market we aim to give the jobbing, and not the retail price. In this city there are a large number of persons who deal in produce, and the aggregate receipts embrace thousands of small lots brought in by as many smaller dealers or producers. So it will be seen that in giving quotations we must be governed more by the average rates as gathered by conversations with many buyers and sellers. To give just the figures that A could get for 1,000 bushels of wheat we would have to know the quality of the grain, the necessities of the buyer, the time when it could be placed in the market, etc. Again, some purchasers, we are informed, have advanced beyond what the market would actually bear in order to keep certain lots out of the hands of rival buyers; and, so there is no possibility of being exact in the matter. There is no uniformity of prices among buyers, and to this, as much as to anything else, we owe the present unsettled state of the Wheat market which has now lasted three weeks or more, and further it is this sort of management, on the part of buyers, that has caused the farmers to become so chary in offering their grain. We are satisfied that the producers of Oregon, as a class, are intelligent and capable of forming their own opinions, but if one of our exporters approach A and tell him they will only pay him $1 65@1 70 per cental for his wheat, and then go at once to B and offer him $1 80 for his, we are not at all surprised that when such transactions become known, as they invariably will, the market should become unsettled, uncertain, and in a measure unsafe, both for buyers and producers. We are satisfied that there is sufficient surplus produce in the country to load all the vessels that will be in our port between this and next harvest, and that the farmers, if openly and fairly dealt with, will part with it freely, at such a price as the markets abroad will warrant, but are much too far sighted to be led into any great error as to their best course to pursue in the matter, and as soon as it is known to them that $1 75 is paid for wheat, they are not so non-business like as to sell at $1 65. Here is another point which we wish to illustrate: An exporter purchases of a jobber in our city who has been buying extensively, 10,000 bushels at $1 75 per cental. The terms are private, as supposed, but by some means outsiders get hold of the information, and it is soon reported throughout the State that "wheat is worth $1 75 in Portland," and no farmer will sell a bushel for less than that figure, though perhaps small lots cannot be got off at more than $1 65. We advise our buyers to let the people know just what they can expect, and we are certain that it would enure to the benefit of both parties.

We have canvassed our local market to-day and find it devoid of change from the figures given yesterday. Our quotations for wheat continue at $1 70a1 80 ₩ cental; Oats, 55a60 cents ₩ bushel; Extra Flour, $5 50; other brands, $4@5 ₩ bbl; Apples, 75c@$1 ₩ box; Potatoes, 35@45c ₩ bushel; Poultry, $4 50@5 ₩ doz for chickens; Butter, 20@30c for common, and 40@42 for choice dairy.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY

COUGHS, HOARSENESS, INFLUENZA,
Sore Throat, Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Asthma, Bleeding of the Lungs, and every affection of the Throat, Lungs and Chest, are speedily and permanently cured by the use of
DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.
This well known preparation does not dry up a cough and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most medicines, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.
Consumption Can be Cured
by a timely resort to this standard remedy, as is proved by hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors. None genuine unless signed I. BUTTS, SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Proprietors, Boston. Sold by REDINGTON, HOSTETTER & CO., San Francisco, and by dealers generally.

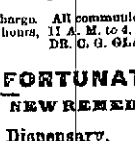
TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.
DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.
The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.
Horrible Diseases.
How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill for curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.
Seminal Weakness.
Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by this new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.
MARRIED MEN.
Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.
DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.
CURED AT HOME.
Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.
All communications strictly confidential.
Caution to the Unfortunate.
Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary ... one of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy too work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, protected patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.
Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957.
REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER.
Consultations FREE.
Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian

To Whom It may Concern.

WHEREAS, UNDER THE LAW, AS DECIDED BY the Circuit Court of the United States in the case of L. H. Minor vs Geo W. Vaughn, the title to a considerable number of lots in the east half of the donation land claim of D. H. Lownsdale, in this city, might be disturbed; therefore notice is hereby given that all persons holding lots within the limits of said east half, by or under conveyances executed by said D. H. Lownsdale, after the 27th of September, 1850; and all holding by or under conveyances executed by him in person before that date, with covenants for title subsequently acquired, can have confirmatory deeds from the heirs of said D. H. Lownsdale, without charge, upon application therefor, the applicants paying the expense of searching the records and making deeds.

W. HAIR HILL,
Attorney in fact for the heirs of D. H. Lownsdale.

GIRARD'S SECRET.—Stephen Girard used to say in his old age: "I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business, and the prelude to wealth. And I have made it an invariable rule to advertise in the dullest times, as well as the busiest, long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out, as by keeping my business continually before the public it has secured me many sales that I otherwise would have lost."
